5 URGENCY

5.1 The case is suitable for emergency relief rather than proceedings on the merits because there is urgency, as referred to in Article 40(1)(b) jo C1 (3). In this case, there is an urgent need for interim relief to prevent irreversible damage, which cannot await the outcome of longer proceedings on the merits. The arbitrator should rule that no adjournment is possible because of the urgency.

³ This is a non-mandatory field.
